    - Why did I chose this organization?
        - I chose it because I have always loved animals and wanted to do something that combines my interest in animals and programming. I thought creating a website for a veterinary clinic would be a great opportunity to support a local business while doing something I really like.
    - How familiar am I with it?
        - My parents have two cats and one dog, so I grew up around animals and am already familiar with caring for and interacting with pets.
